

③ 中高 英語科 解答用紙 (解答例)

17) Despite technological advancements, I believe it is very important that English is taught in the classroom. One of the most important elements of speaking or writing a foreign language is making sure that the listener or reader understands what is trying to be conveyed.

Language can be difficult even for native speakers; there are many different cultural nuances and particular habits even within the same language. Machines cannot currently discern between these like humans. English education provides individuals with the opportunity to understand other cultures and develop general communication skills. This is why I believe it is important to teach English in the classroom.
